The NACRe Network serves research and knowledge dissemination in the nutrition and cancer field

Julie Le Merdy, Juliette Bigey, Raphaëlle Ancellin, Guillaume Frasca, Paule Latino-Martel

EPP45-4

Track 5

Disclosure of interest: None declared

Abstract presented before: N

Paris, France
31 Oct–3 Nov 2016

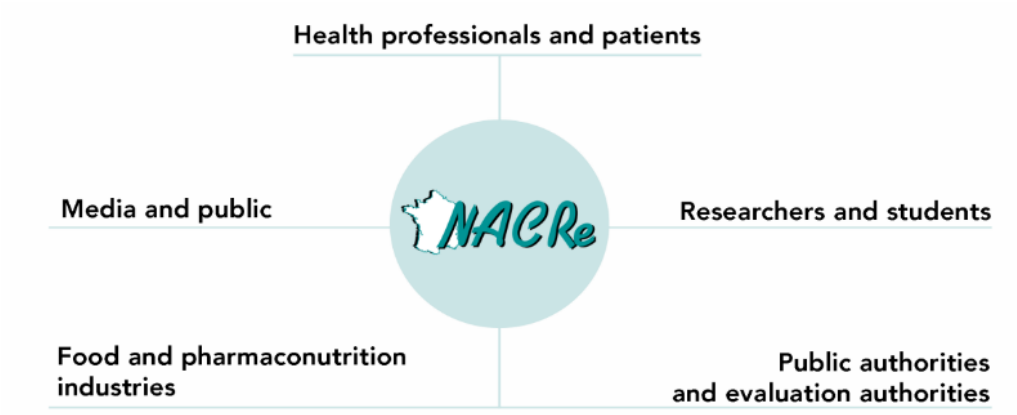

Mobilising Action Inspiring Change

UICC global cancer control WORLD CANCER CONGRESS

A French initiative in the nutrition and cancer field

OBJECTIVES IN THIS FIELD

- To contribute to develop research
- To bring together experts
- To be a principal contact for requests of relevant information
- To contribute to health professionals training

MEANS

- Coordination team
- Public research teams (43)
- Working groups and Commitees
- Support of partners

INRA SCIENCE & IMPACT — INSTITUT NATIONAL DU CANCER — FONDATION ARC POUR LA RECHERCHE SUR LE CANCER

TOOLS

- Web site : www.inra.fr/nacre
- Information packages, news…
- NACRe teams directory
- Documents validated by the network for the general public and health professionals

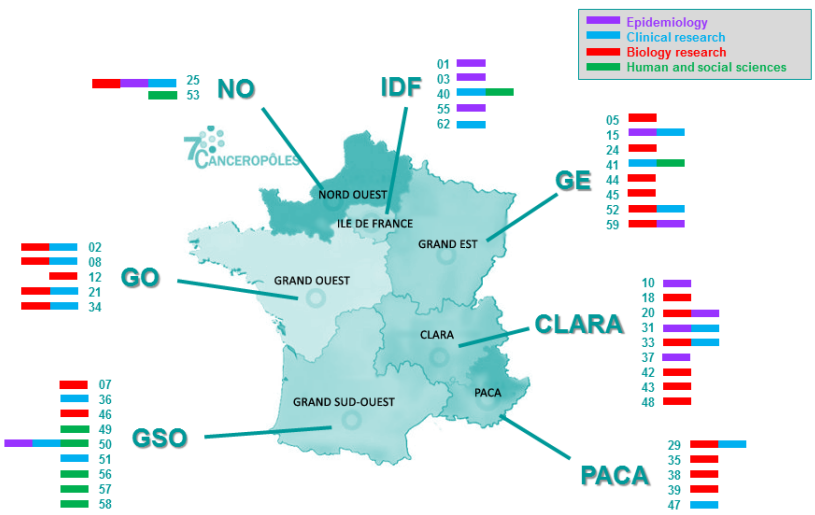

NACRe
www.inra.fr/nacre
The website dedicated to Nutrition and Cancer information

NACRe network projects (1/2)

Research development

- Annual NACRe network meeting
- Partnership: creation of the "NACRe Label" for collaborative research projects
- Inventory of experimental, epidemiological, clinical and SHS resources
- Information sharing via the monthly network's newsletter (documentary and scientific watch)
- Updates of the network directory

The 43 research teams of the NACRe network (March 2016)

Systematic review and expertise

- 2015 INCa Report "Nutrition and primary cancer prevention: updating the evidence" (cf. RF3-8)
- Critical reviews in Oncology/Hematology: Latino-Martel et al. 2016 (99),308-323.
- Expert group on fasting and cancer (state of the art, public health implications)

NACRe network projects (2/2)

Information on validated scientific data

- Production of various documents
- NACRe Event on Nutrition and Cancer for the French general public
- Nutrition and Cancer conferences and exhibition stands in various scientific or general public meetings
- Updates of the NACRe website
- Response to interview requests

Health professionals training

- NACRe/Training Committe
- NACRe trainings on nutrition and cancer in adults
  - ✓ February 7, 2017 (Clermont-Ferrand)